Message From The Founder Secretary

Prof. Dr. T. J. Sawant
Founder Secretary,
JSPM & TSSM Group of Institutions

Dear Students, Faculty and Esteemed Readers,

January has unfolded as a vibrant beginning to the year—much like the first rays of dawn that bring with them hope, energy, and new possibilities. It gives me immense pride to reflect upon the remarkable journey our institution has undertaken in just this one month. This edition of Innovista @ RSCOE is not merely a newsletter—it is a presentation of the vibrant colours of technology, art, and sports, beautifully capturing the spirit and dynamism of our institution. Each page reflects creativity, innovation, and the collective enthusiasm that defines our campus life. I extend my heartfelt congratulations to all my faculty members, students for their hard work and dedication to achieve this excellence and also to editorial team for their dedicated efforts in bringing together this inspiring compilation. Our commitment to shaping future engineers was clearly reflected through the Job Fair organized by the SPIR Cell, opening doors of opportunity and aspiration for our students. Equally inspiring was the spirit of service demonstrated during the NSS Special Camp, where activities like cloth donation and village service instilled values of empathy and social responsibility. On the innovation front, the expert session on emerging technologies and the enthusiastic participation in the Hackathon showcased the creative intellect and problem-solving abilities of our students. Celebrations like Sports Day and the observance of Independence Day added energy, discipline, and a sense of national pride to our campus. I would also like to extend my heartfelt congratulations to my faculty members on achieving their Ph.D., and to our students for their commendable accomplishments in sports and technical domains. Each achievement this month stands as a testament to our shared vision of excellence. As we move forward, let us continue to learn, innovate, and serve with dedication and integrity.
